

JACK FROST and BIG BOULDER – COMMITTED to MAXIMUM FUN for EVERYONE... Deals Galore & Indoor Waterpark at Split Rock Lodge

BLAKESLEE, PA — JFBB has got you covered outside and inside at their resorts this winter. The focus this year has been to offer everyone something from the novice to the expert skier or rider.

At Big Boulder the Alpine Lounge has become the new Burrito Bar and a new bar has been built bigger and better and with an awesome view of the mountain. This is the place to hang for après ski with great music from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m., Saturdays and holidays with all of your favorite beers on tap. In addition, Boulder Park Lodge got a facelift with new paint and lounging area to just chill after hiking the Plaza or hitting some of the jumps on Boulder Park. The crew was busy all summer creating new features for the parks at Jack Frost and Big Boulder.

New to the JFBB website are the interactive maps versus the old static maps that offer guests the opportunity to highlight and pull up information in a snow report and apply it to a map. The one feature “My Map” will allow guests to customize their own maps and areas they wish to use with their own pictures and videos. Go online at www.jfbb.com and check out the new interactive trail maps.

At Jack Frost there was a lot of off season action with the cleaning up of existing tree and glade areas. In addition to that, Jack Frost expanded with several new glade areas located on skiers right on the Easy Rider slope and also created a small glade area to skiers right going down Sno Chute, next to the East Mountain lift into the Lightning slope. The top of Floyds Folly has been cleared to allow the crew to set Polecat fans, so the fans can blow nice snow into the new Risk It glade area. At the top of Exhibition on the first headwall, they widened the area that has been a tight spot with the bumps. One Park picked up a few surprise features, including the Rooster Booster.

JFBB continues to show their dedication to snowmaking by continuing to add to their snowmaking fleet with LAKE HARMONY, PA – Lake Harmony in winter, the peaceful view of mist on the partly frozen lake may almost have you forgetting about the skiing, snowboarding, tubing, water parks and other outdoor fun.
