Perspective. It comes from getting up here, where towering peaks and real air and deep snow have a way of stripping off the stuff that gets in the way of what's important. It's a vantage point from which our consistent #1 resort rankings, our vast and varied terrain, our legendary après and activities, and our vibrant pedestrian village take a back seat to how it actually feels to be here. But the big picture isn't just about those things, it's about the perspective you gain from having it all.
